

Call for Papers
The Higher Language Institute at Damascus University
Holds
The 11th International TEFL Conference
31 August 2022

Theme: Transformation in English language teaching/learning during and in the aftermath of Covid-19

The Organising Committee of the 11th TEFL (Blended) Conference at the Higher Language Institute, Damascus University, is calling for abstract submissions. We encourage teachers, educators and professionals in the field of EFL across the region and globally to submit proposals for papers on a topic of their choice relating to the Conference theme. Proposed submission sub-themes include:

- Adoption and adaptation of online EFL teaching
- Educational measures
- Changing roles of EFL teachers and learners
- Autonomous learning
- Refocusing EFL teacher presence and learning activity
- 21st century skills in EFL classrooms
- Role of social media in English language teaching/learning
- Continuing EFL learning and the impact on the teaching approaches, including CLIL
- Tailoring and designing EFL assessment methods
- Providing support to EFL teachers and learners
- Socio-emotional EFL learning
- Challenges and opportunities of digital transformation for EFL teaching/learning

This event will be a blended event, including in-person and online sessions. For online presenters, we will email you closer to the date to provide you with full details on how to join the sessions virtually.
