: Orford -

“... [t]he World Trade Organization (WTO), will influence the capacity of peoples in all states so make decisions about the conditions affecting their lives in the future. Trade and financial liberalization conducted through multilateral and regional trade regimes has begun to limit the degree to which people are able to shape the economic, social, and cultural policies of their governments”. Orford, op. cit., p.

BERKEY (Judson Osterhoudt) The European Court of Justice and Direct Effect for the GATT: A Question Worth Revisiting, European Journal of International Law (EJIL).Vol. . No. .

Berkey

“The question of whether the GATT should have direct effect is complex. The GATT is a constitutional agreement like the EC Treaty. However, it adopts a different set of economic goals than the EC Treaty does. The GATT is also an international agreement of the Community.

()

. ()

However, it establishes a regulatory structure which is different from that established by the other international agreements into which the Community has entered".
