Section One: Reading (Questions 1-12)

Read the following text and choose the correct answer (A), (B), (C), or (D) for each of the following.

Is it really worth complaining when goods or services are not satisfactory? It certainly is according to a new report from the consumer magazine "Which?". As they point out, the old saying "if you don't ask, you don't get" is true for many situations, but particularly so when it comes to compensation. Take the case of Mike Thomas from Cornwall. He bought a Toshiba laptop computer, but just three years later he found that it was getting slower and slower.

As the machine was no longer under guarantee, Mr. Thomas called a local repairer. He charged him £45 to look at it and then told him that he would need to spend £650 plus VAT for a new part. Then he took the laptop to a well-known computer retailer and they told him to buy a new one!

However, Mr. Thomas still felt that his computer should not be out of date after just three years. He decided to write a letter of complaint to Toshiba. A short time later, the company collected the laptop, diagnosed a software problem, repaired it, and returned it with a new battery, all without charge.
